TRANSITIONING
WIRELESS TO WIRED
MICROPHONES

Effective April 1st, 2019 Shoemaker Jukebox Rentals will begin the process of phasing out the use of wireless microphones in favor of wired microphones. Our goal is to create a more reliable product with an even greater quality sound.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has conducted auctions of licenses for electromagnetic spectrum to facilitate the emergence of 5G wireless cell phone service by companies such as Verizon Wireless, AT&T, T-Mobile, and others. A large portion of the radio frequency spectrum that have historically been used for wireless microphone systems have been sold off. Due to these changes, many wireless microphone systems have become illegal to operate, and the limited frequencies that remain have become crowded and unreliable.

By transitioning to a wired microphone system as opposed to wireless, our users will enjoy an enhanced user experience which will provide a high quality, highly reliable solution now and into the future.

- 1) an easy to use, highly reliable product that our customers will enjoy.
- 2) the ability to make announcements that can be heard loud and clear.
- 3) the ability to sing karaoke (optional upgrade).

We will make available a limited number of new wireless systems at an additional charge. The additional charge will help us to ensure that we comply with the federal law, and to cover the additional cost of acquiring and managing this new equipment.
